Next Review: Summer Term 2021

1. Introduction

Whitworth Community High School (WCHS) aims to embrace the needs of all students and has a whole school approach to special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). We provide effective opportunities for all students by responding to students' diverse learning needs, setting suitable learning challenges and overcoming barriers to learning. All teachers teach students with SEND. Our SEND provision is co-ordinated by the Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENCO) and Learning Support team and follows Department for Education (DfE) definitions and guidance and reflects our statutory duties introduced by the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act 2001 and Disability Discrimination Act 2005.

2. Principles

By SEND we mean a learning difficulty or a disability that prevents, hinders or inhibits a student from accessing our facilities and resources, limits progress or opportunities and constitutes a significant difficulty. Sensory and physical impairments, specific learning difficulties such as dyslexia and dyspraxia, conditions like AD(H)D and some complex behavioural, emotional or social difficulties, including syndromes such as Tourettes, and Autistic Spectrum Condition and mental health disorders are among the disabilities that may be classed as SEND if they have significant impact on the student's ability to make progress and take a full part in school life. Special educational provision means interventions which are additional to or different from those made for other students. We escalate and involve experts as needed to ensure progress as part of a graduated response, in line with the SEN Code of Practice. We follow DfE guidance when we review progress, update targets, and define, manage and map special provision

3. Identification and assessment

Many students with SEND will have had formal assessments or diagnoses at primary school. Our Transition Team have developed links with our primary feeder schools who inform us of the student's with SEND in preparation for transition to WCHS. The SENCO takes part in Year 6 annual reviews of pupils with EHC Plans or significant need. All students are assessed on entry to WCHS.

In some cases a student without previously identified SEND may not make adequate progress, or teachers may consult the SENCO about other concerns. The Learning Support Team will arrange monitoring, assessment and observation as needed, and if appropriate will arrange for further testing or referrals.

4. Provision

At WCHS we have a policy of individual planning and recording for all students, and deliver personalised learning initiatives. Every student has individual targets and we record outcomes for them. Provision-mapping for students with SEND is therefore an integral part of our whole-school management systems. For students with SEND our provision mapping also:

- Identifies additional or different provision and its costs
- Links provision to individuals
- Monitors and reviews provision and students' targets

Special provision usually means differentiated delivery, resources or tasks managed by teachers in class settings, without involving additional adults (it may also entail in-class work or targeted group interventions by Teaching Assistants, such as literacy catch-up groups, or work on areas like social skills or speaking and listening, to teach skills, address learning gaps, boost achievement or exploit strengths). Some students with SEND also have special (access) arrangements in exams, such as extra time, a reader or access to a word processor.

In some cases, students with SEND will have had medical or educational assessments designed to identify their areas of need, and report on how all stakeholders can support them. We may use elements of these reports to inform our provision mapping. Students with SEND who have difficulty managing their behaviour may have a Pastoral Support Plan (PSP). This will include an outline of their difficulties, special provision and targets, and be used for monitoring and reviews. This work is carried out in partnership with the Progress Leaders/SLT. Some students who have a disability will have an IHCP prepared with the help of the student, their parents or carers, and other involved professionals. Care plans detail support arrangements, contact numbers and procedures, and are reviewed at least annually. Students for whom English is a second language, gifted and talented students, students from ethnic minorities, children looked after by the Local Authority and other vulnerable groups may get differentiated provision but do not come under the umbrella of SEND provision unless they also have a learning difficulty or disability with significant impact.

5. Resources

Funding for students with SEND is allocated according to a funding formula which changes from time to time. Additional 'exceptional needs' funding is available for the most severe levels of need in mainstream schools. Decisions about the allocation of these funds are made by Cluster Groups who manage a notional budget for this purpose. The majority of this funding is already allocated to schools for existing named pupils and so any allocations made throughout the year are intended primarily for students with newly identified needs or who have recently entered the school system. Our SENCO manages our bids for funds.

6. Partnership with parents, carers and students

WCHS emphasises the importance of involving students and developing a partnership with parents and carers in order to plan provision and review progress. Involvement will include: discussions with relevant school staff, and external agencies. Parents and carers of students with an EHC Plan of Special Educational Needs are always asked to attend an annual review meeting and to be actively involved in the review process, including the agreeing of targets.

7. Monitoring and evaluation

This SEND policy is reviewed by Governors annually, and the SENCO prepares an Annual Report for the Governors.

8. Complaints procedure

If a parent or carer has any concerns or complaints regarding the care or welfare of their child, an appointment can be made by them to speak to the Headteacher or SENCO, who will be able to advise on formal procedures for complaint.
